Q & A Guidelines and Suggestions

- Please use the Zoom chat, indicating that you have a question and what your field is (e.g., linguistics, philosophy, etc.)
 - You then will be called to unmute yourself and ask the question
- If you didn't have a chance to ask your question, you can always put your question in the chat
- We strongly encourage you to ask questions across disciplinary boundaries
- Presenters are encouraged to “do something” with a question rather than always strictly “answer” it

Reflections

- What is the value of interdisciplinary work?
- How might you change your engagement with research in the future?
- What are the larger implications of studying “agency” and “intention”? Ought there be larger implications?
- Something you’d like to see next year?
- Thank you!

A Parting Joke

“What did it take for Wittgenstein to screw in a light bulb?”

“A linguistic turn”
